PATRICK.

Mrs. Eliza J. Kirkpatrick, wife of Mr. Thomas Kirkpatrick, died early Tuesday morning at her home on Whistle Creek, aged 73 years. She had been a great sufferer for years from rheumatism, and for the last four years was confined to her bed. For many years the deceased was a consistent member of the Methodist church, and although suffering great bodily pain yet her mind was clear and her faith strong. Nothwithstanding the hand of affliction pressed so heavily upon her, still through her anguish could she reverently say, "Not my will, but Thine be done." Truly a mother in Israel has been called to her reward.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick was a danghter of Mr. Stuart Taylor, a well known local preacher of the Methodist church, who lived near Wilson's Springs. She is survived by her husband and two sons—Mr. William S. Kirk patrick, who lives in the West, and Mr. John F. Kirkpatrick, of Whistle Creek. She has two sisters living—Mrs. James McCown. of illinois, and Mrs. George Miller, of Denmark; and four brothers—Bishop William Taylor, the famous missionary of the Methodist church to Africa, Rovs. Andrew J. Taylor, of Pennsylvania, Arch Taylor and James Taylor of Atlanta, Ga.

Mr., and Mrs. Kirkpatrick with their family lived in Lexiegton for many years, having removed from here about twenty years ago.

The funeral took place this marning at 9 o'clock from her late regidence, the services being conducted by her pastor, Thev. A. P. Boude. The body was brought here and interred in the Lexington cemetery. was recommended to me by my teacher, who also lent me the money to get the medicine which Dr. Hartman prescribed. I took the treatment and it cured me. I am now a healthy woman, weighing 194 pounds, and I owe it all to Dr. Hartman's treatment. I am sure I would not be living now if it had it not been for his treatment. I cannot help recom-mending it to all suffers, and will an-

Any woman wishing to apply for Dr.

Hartman's free home treatment has only to send age, symptoms, duration of di-sease, when the doctor will prescribe the proper treatment. The medicine can be obtained by each patient at the nearest drug store. Each woman should have a copy of Dr. Hartman's latest book on the diseases peculiar to women, called "Health and Beauty." KERR'S CREEK CULLINGS.

(GAZETTE CORRESPONDENCE.)

Kerr's Creek, Va., Jan. 31, 1898. Dr. Rudd Morrison, our new physician, has taken charge of his new office here, and is now kept quite busy. There is much sickness throughout the different neighborhoods. Pneumonia, typhoid fever, and dyptheria are the prevailing diseases. Mr. Lam, of Denmark, and John Harper, of Kerr's Creek, are reported to be dangerously ill with typhoid fever. Also Harvie, son of Mr. Weeks, is sick with the same disease.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Charles Lowman, of Millboro, is very much better, and on the fair road to recovery.

We understand that one of our most attractive young ladies of Kerr's Creek is soon to be carried off to the "Sunny South." Perhaps we can give an account of the "all important event" in next week's GAZETTE.

GOLD-BUG PHILOSOPHY.

It is a well understood fact that the value It is a well understood fact that the value of money lies in what that money will buy or exchange for. U. S. money is supported by all the commodities, resources of the people and of the country of the United States. Mexican money by the same of Mexico (this fact accounts for the difference in value of Mexican and U. S. coin.) Recognizing these facts how silly is the argument of the gold-bug in asserting that if the United States should repudlate the single gold monetary standard all of the products of this great and grand nation, as well as all its resources which back its money, would immediately be reduced in commercial value one-half.

Rev. Dr. Moses D. Hoge, the venerable paster of the Second Presbyterian church, of Richmond, has appointed the Rev. Donald Guthrie. of Canada, as assistant paster. His reason for this step is that friends have urged him to prepare two or three books, but that under present conditions he has not the time. An assistant will enable him to devote the necessary time to the preparation of these books.

It is a fact much to be lamented that many teachers are seigned to schools who are in no way competent. Persons may stand a fair examination watere so much is composed of catch questions and yet lack all the qualifications for making a success of teaching. Our Bourds who serve without pay, except clerks have a hard road to travel and of course con't please all, but I am not ready to try to screen them from the too often just complaint at the hands of patrons. Many mistakes are made in their assignments, but this does not do away with the necesi y for compulsory at-tendance. In the community in which I live re is not a teacher engaged who not thought to be competent, and all, so far as I know, are giving sat afaction to all concerned. Yet there are children not attending at all and many attending with such irregularity as to derive but little, if any, benefit As said in a former article it costs no more to teach a'l than a part, and all should be made to take advantage of previous issue. I must say that alhough an old man. I am not at all decrepit, neither am I in my dotage the fact that there is usually a reverence for antiquity and respect for old age. I am happy, however, to know that in this particular instance my age saved me from being so roughly handled that the expression of my views on the subject in question might have proven the guillotine upon which my old head would have been severed from my body. Men from different standpoints will view things in quite a different light and this in all honesty. Your correspondent who seems to be a citizen of the town of Glasgow, is not, I guess, bearing as heavy a load of unnecessary expense in the way of fencing as many who are forced to go on year by year building and repairing at a cost entirely unknown or unthought of by those who are exempt.

A good object lesson is now at hand when we see so much of our fencing blown down by the secent high winds.

"Jay" seems to think that because our railroads are the cause of so many casualties, the few that might occur as the result of horses running at large is a matter of minor importance, in fact ter loose horses by the way and one included.

a man may not make feneing to his tives may be had for less money.

And here is a striking illustration of heart's content, but that one will not be forced to make it for the exclusive the evils of the Chinese wall of protecbenefit of another. If anyone has grazing let him fence and graze. It in quality or quantity in case of having no compulsory fencing.

I can't see how the law as regards hogs has anything to do with the amount of pork raised here. "Jay" unintentionally gives the only reason for that in saying that we are unable to compete with the West. But why ay more when the farmers near Glasgow have decided that that the Supervisors must leave the law as it is? SENEX

THE FENCE LAW.

For the GAZETTE:

1 see an article in-your issue of Jan 19th, headed "The Fence Question" in which your correspondent first advo-cates no-fence law as to mules and horses and then declares himself in favor of a clean sweep as to all stock. Now I wish to notice a few of the reasons he gives in defence of his position First he says losse stock are dangerous. I bave never known an accident from this cause in all my long life and I feel sure the writer never did. But the most absurd statement he makes is that the farmer is forced to fence against all stock running at large, as if the same fence that is absolutely necessary to keep the farmer's stock in bounds would not keep the poor man's cow or horse out. If there was any way for regulating the farmer's crops and stock without the expense of fencing then there would be some sense in this proposition. The writer seems to think it a great hardship that he can't enter his field and leave the gap down without the risk of his neighbor's cows getting in: Now this proves to my mind how much weight this farmer's opinion is entitled to when he admits he uses their opportunities.

Now as to "Jay's" rather sarcastic remarks in regard to my views on the edy this evil I would recommend gates. that can be opened and closed in a moment. My brother farmer com-plains that he has a road through his nor do I ask any favor on account of arm. I would like to know if this fact don't make his farm desirable and more valuable, and if he had none how long it would be before he would apply to the County Court to give him a road out through some one else's farm; and where there is a farmer in this county who has no road either to or through his farm; and further where he gets h s law that he is the sole owner of the public read that has been condemned through his farm and paid for by the county. (But this is in keeping with much of nonsense in his article). He has the right of reversion when the public is done with it, nothing more-

Your correspondent does not fail to touch on the poor man's cow, because perhaps his conscience annoys him just a little. Here he tries to escape from it by saying the poor man would be better off because he then could re-quire his landlord to pasture his cow. So he could possibly by paying for it out of his meager wages now insufficient to clothe and feed his family, and if he failed to make this arrangement with his landlord then his cow wonin have to go. But just here the true inwardness of your corre-pondent appears when he demands that the expense lookout of those concerned, while he, your correspondent, is not required to look atter his fences. This is justice according to his narrow view. "Consistency, thou art a jewel."

The Winchester Times truly says: In spite of the high protective tariff law framed by a New England Con-gressman it is found that the New England cotton mills cannot compete and operated by cheaper labor. The cost of living in the South is less than A no-fence law does not mean that in the North, and therefore the operation. If the cotton mills could comlands that he can use to advantage in pete on fair terms in the markets of the world for the world's trade, the seems to me a clear case that whenever Northern and Southern mills would there is profit in any kind of stock not be warring with each other for raising, there will be no dropping off the markets of this country. Both would be prosperous competitors in the much larger field of the world's trade, where both would have the same right of supremacy over foreign competition that the South now en-joys over the North. As it is in the cotton factories so it is in all other industries, but it is not so obvious.
